NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE MUSEUM – The Harrah Collection

The National Automobile Museum (The Harrah Collection) is a place where time, culture, beauty, history, human invention, ingenuity and frivolity merge to fascinate us in the form of cars. The Museum houses an astounding collection, where visitors can explore decades of intriguing automobiles, stroll down period-style street scenes and stand inches from cars once owned by the rich and famous.

Featuring special exhibits, automotive memorabilia, art collections and vintage clothing, the Museum has something for everyone - a feast for the eyes, a journey for the soul, and the story of a nation. The Museum holds over 200 antique, vintage, classic, special interest and one-of-a-kind automobiles.

GALILEO PLAYERS

In 1997, 30 years after science was invented by the Kennedy Administration, three handsome geeks from The Second City Conservatory Program founded Galileo, a sketch comedy troupe named after the sweet Indigo Girls song. They decided that sketch comedy in the world needed to be smarter, and science in the world needed to be funnier, so they pooled Ronnie's savings and spent it on lab coats and a three week rental of a black box theater.

Since the debut of their first original sketch show, 'Foresight is 20/20', Galileo has turned that investment into a virtual (meaning not yet real) comedic empire – cornering the market on comedy inspired by science and philosophy. The only limit to their ambition is time, space, and Newton's Third Law, which they have always found to be silly.

Until they are able to conquer the known universe, they are content to perform for the civilized world, bringing their quirky sensibility to colleges, festivals, and corporate events.

We hope history and Stephen Hawking approve
